THE EMPRESS CURRENT AFFAIRS

Manager Outler, of the Empress Theatre, announces that he has booked the greatest lineup of pictures ever booked for Macleod.

These comprise all Paramount pictures released up to present date, and are not yet completed, including the following: "To Have and Have Not," "White Oak," featuring Bill Hart, Agnes Ayres in "Borderland," Wallace Reid and Lila Lee in "The Dictator," a story by Richard Harding Davis, Ralph Kirkwood in "The Man From Hong," Oliver Carasso's "Valley of Silent Men," Marie Corelli's "Young Diana," Peter B. Kryn's story "The Pride of Palanquer," "Blood and Sand," "Fanny Hill," and many other stories taken from well known books.

The longest of these pictures, that is, 7, 8 and 10 reel subjects will be run on Mondays and Tuesdays and as they are long, one reel comedy will be shown with them. The usual Century two reel comedy will be changed to Wednesday and Thursday to run with the five and six reel Paramount pictures.

Herbert Rawlinson comes to the screen of the Empress Theatre on Friday and Saturday in a Universal film play entitled "Another Man's Shoes." The story is well known to book lovers, for Victor Bridger's novel of that name has been pretty widely read.

Rehman Rawlinson's story of a detective feature stands a better chance of success than any other which has been associated with him several times in the past—Jack Conway. Conway directed one of Rawlinson's first successes in "Don't Blame Me," which came through in a version of the past few months. "Don't Blame Me" also directed some of Universal's other ventures that have scored successes recently, including the one in which Henry B. Walthall, Ralph Graves and Marjorie Daw achieved noteworthy success. "The Long Chase."

Rawlinson has the support in "Another Man's Shoes" of a cast which includes the popular Arthur H. H. Ford, Jeff Swickard, Anna Trevelyan, Nick de Ruiz, Jean de Briane, Harry Carter, Nelson McDowell, and the Langdon and Jessie Deparrette.

The story of this clever comedy-drama was written by Clara Beranger. Frank Urson directed and Ethel Clayton is supported by a cast of favorites, headed by T. Roy Barnes.

In olden days, through the land, it was a man's heart; And now a woman's heart is found to be true.

day is not only an action play but has the dramatic quality and finesse necessary to prevent recognition and to make the audience believe that the author is the author and his book is his.

A dual role, that of a man hunted by an assassin band, and a man of great power, is given to the first for adventure's sake, gives Rawlinson an opportunity for excellent work.

A cast was chosen that indicates the tendency of leading producers to offer the finest personnel possible in screen entertainment.

It is said that Jack Conway had an opportunity in this to excel his work as the director of such successes of recent years as "Don't Blame Me" and "The Long Chase."

A strong cast added to the material that is presented by a widely read book makes an excellent beginning for a good picture.

Arthur Sturtevant adapted the story to the screen to fit Rawlinson's personality.

EVERY DAY PROBLEMS IN "EXIT-THE VAMP"

Ethel Clayton's new Paramount picture "Exit—The Vamp," which comes to the screen of the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, should exert a general appeal, as it does with a vital problem of real life.

Thompson Buchanan, noted play writer who supervised the production of this picture, the story is excellent in every respect.

"The punch in this picture," declares Mr. Buchanan, "lies in the way that the story is told, with a strong, clear, and direct line of action, and a strong, clear, and direct line of action."

PASTEUR CONQUERED A DREADED DISEASE

One could scarcely say that the most important of Pasteur's discoveries was the serum that prevented the development of rabies. But it is undoubtedly the feat with which his name is most intimately associated in popular thought—such as the fact that he was the first to show that life is not a mere chemical reaction, but a process of growth and development. It is because while rabies in human beings is a disease of the brain, and the brain is the seat of the mind, that the most important of Pasteur's discoveries was the serum that prevented the development of rabies. But it is undoubtedly the feat with which his name is most intimately associated in popular thought—such as the fact that he was the first to show that life is not a mere chemical reaction, but a process of growth and development.

The First Case

It was only after a series of experiments, extending over several years, and after the treatment had been frequently applied to various cases, that Pasteur was able to treat a human being.

The first case was that of a boy named Joseph Meister, of Alsace, who was taken to Pasteur by his father. He had been bitten on the face and hands by a rabid dog.

industry in the province, and during the last session a bill was introduced, the province and conducted conferences with employers and workers to secure evidence on the requirements respecting a minimum wage, and the orders were then prepared and presented to the minister.

A standard minimum of $14.00 was established for all industries, but the length of the learning period and the payment for same varies with the various classifications recognized by the board. One important ruling respecting apprentices provides that not more than twenty-five per cent. of female employees may be classed as apprentices.

The new wage will come into effect on April 1st, 1923, in order to permit of time for making of changes in industries that will be affected by the orders of the board.

FARMERS OF THE PRAIRIES ARE NOT QUITTERS

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—Comparatively few of the farmers in the so-called drought areas of Saskatchewan and Alberta are taking advantage of the provisions which assist them to leave their present locations and move further north in the same provinces where droughts have not been encountered to the same extent, according to information reaching the department of agriculture here. Some 200 or 300 farmers in Southern Alberta are stated to have sought new locations under the assistance provided by the federal and provincial governments and the number in Saskatchewan is not more than a few dozen.

"The farmers of the prairie provinces are not quitters," stated one high official of the department today. "There is a healthy feeling of optimism among them and a determination to stick where they are and win out rather than move to a new location where another year might see a crop failure just as disastrous as those they have undergone during the last few years. Another factor which has had considerable bearing on the matter is that in Northwestern Saskatchewan from about 1910 to 1919 the crops this year were decidedly disappointing while in the southern district they were more satisfactory. "All in all, the western farmers today are decidedly more optimistic than they were a year ago, and though prices are low there is hope that conditions will improve and production costs be reduced before an export crop."

INVASION OF RUHR DISTRICT IS FORESEEN

Paris, Jan. 6.—France mobilized her Rhine forces today, recalling all troops on leave from Mayence barracks. General Duguesne ordered this action immediately upon the breakdown of the reparations conference recalled the Rhineland. No military action against Germany will be taken, however, until orders are received from Paris.

France today planned conferences with Belgium and Italy. Great Britain will not be invited to this conference if one is arranged. The crisis will come January 15, when the next reparations payments by Germany fall due. The Cuno government is expected to ask a moratorium, and Italy and Belgium, as well as France, are opposed to this.

Belgium already has agreed to joint action by the three countries on the basis of Poincaré's plan rejected by the British, and Italy, leaning more towards France than towards England, is expected to agree.

Premier Poincaré instructed Louis Barthou to call an immediate meeting of the reparations commission for notification of Germany's alleged default in coin payments.

FRENCH ON THE MARCH ALONG THE RHINE

Ottawa, Jan. 6.—French troops were on the march today along the Rhine. Engineers and a detachment of railway workers have gone to Essen, first city to be seized as France takes steps to enforce reparations payments. Two regiments, one of artillery, one of infantry, have been ordered forward from Kipfel. Troops are quickly concentrating at Düsseldorf in small detachments. Tanks and armored cars will form the advance guard, it is reported, when actual invasion of the Ruhr starts.

All that was needed to put in motion the horizon blue machinery of war which France has drilled and kept as long throughout the Rhineland, was word from Paris that the reparations commission has formally found Germany in default. Infantry, it was believed, would be rushed to Essen to support the engineers and railway detachments, and from that center French troops would spread through the Ruhr Valley. For all this business-like attitude and the pulse of war drums along the Rhine border, it was believed that France would proceed cautiously and that actual invasion of the Ruhr would be begun only when France wants to learn more about what Britain's going to do next before taking irrevocable action.

Up and down the Rhineland's occupied zones things had a martial appearance. Trains were choked with soldiers hurrying back from leave. Artillery was in motion through the streets of occupied towns and on the highways. Aeroplanes at the hangars along the border were being readied. Duty wore their banded blue "tin hats" there was new snap in the military manoeuvres.

Everywhere was evidence that the French go into the Ruhr they will do so with a rush, with all the accoutrements of war. Tanks, armored cars, aeroplanes, seventy-five, light and heavy engineering equipment, have been pushed into the valleys of the Ruhr along with the first infantry troops.

TROOPS AT DUSSELDORF

Berlin, Jan. 8.—Fifteen hundred French troops arrived at Düsseldorf Sunday and demanded accommodation, the mayor of the city notified the governments today. Three hundred automobiles were commandeered by the troops. Two schools and part of the bureau of finance were demanded as quarters for three hundred troops. The mayor reported that the town is in a state of excitement. Tanks and cavalry patrol the streets. German officials say the troops will be sent forward to Essen immediately.

TURKS MUST SIGN PACT OR TAKE CONSEQUENCES

London, Jan. 6.—A draft of the Near East treaty will be presented to the Turks at Lausanne within a fortnight, it was said in official circles today. The Turks will be told to sign the document or bear it in pieces and take the consequences.

BRITAIN VOTES AGAINST DEFAULT

Paris, Jan. 9.—The reparations commission today voted Germany in wilful default in her coal deliveries. The vote was 3 to 1, Sir John Bradbury, the British member casting the negative vote.

The discussion over the default question lasted an hour and three-quarters, a part of which time was taken up by the British delegate in explaining his reasons why he considered the default should not be declared. Sir John explained he was unable to vote for the proposition because he felt that his action took the matter out of the hands of the commission and placed it under the jurisdiction of the governments. He believed the question could have been handled by the commission in view of the circumstances surrounding the delivery of coal by Germany last year.

FRENCH ADVANCE TROOPS ARE SEVEN MILES FROM ESSEN

Essen, Germany, Jan. 9.—Advance troops of the French army, largely with technical equipment, have already reached the neighboring town of Kettwig, seven miles southwest of Essen, and a section between Düsseldorf and Essen is half covered by French military forces, according to private advice reaching here today.

THE FRENCH MOVEMENT TO THE RUHR

London, Jan. 9.—The present French movement into the Ruhr, involving Düsseldorf, will terminate at Essen according to information received in British official circles from their observers in the Rhineland. The British maintain they are still without official knowledge of the French plans.

Brussels, Jan. 9.—Arrangements have been made with the French government for Belgian reinforcements to be held in readiness to proceed to the Ruhr when they are requested. A new party of engineers also will be sent to co-operate with the French and Italian engineers in the application of the economic measures decided on by the French government. A detailed explanation of the arrangements has been made to the foreign office affairs committee. The chamber of deputies will be informed of the arrangements today.

Berlin, Jan. 9.—Thirty-eight trains carrying French troops left Mayence yesterday with Essen as the destination of the forces, says an Essen telegram today. The arrival of heavy artillery and sappers is reported from the neighborhood of Meuse, three and a half miles southwest of Essen. The staffs of several French regiments arrived at Düsseldorf last night and this morning the troops were expected to reach here this morning.

In order to avoid friction as much as possible, the railway authorities at Essen kept the freight loads cleared off after midnight in preparation for the expected arrival of the French. The municipal administration last night notified the city's largest employers that the building might be closed at short notice for the French, and the management was requested that they might be requested to leave during the night.

Otherwise Essen is calm. The weather is rainy and the wet streets were virtually deserted last night.

ALBERTA ENGINEERS IN ANNUAL SESSION

Lethbridge, Jan. 6.—Engineers from all parts of the province are in the city today for the sessions of the annual meeting of the Alberta Association of Professional Engineers, which is in session at the Masonic hall, with E. G. Drinton, well-known Edmonton mining man, presiding.

This morning was used by the council for their regular executive meeting, while the rest of the delegates inspected the new automatic telephone system, one of the first pieces of mechanism of its kind in Canada.

The first general session opened at 2 p.m., when the main address of the convention commenced. At 6:30 p.m. a complimentary banquet will be tendered the delegates at the Y.M.C.A. dining hall, and this will be followed at 8:15 by an illustrated lecture by Major Maclean on the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation project.

In view of the meeting in the city of the engineers of the province, the men to whom the world looks for leadership in its constructive enterprises, the following editorial tribute to the profession from the Winnipeg Tribune, is here appended:

The fact that the Engineering Institute of Canada is in convention here makes the occasion opportune to pay a little tribute of praise to one of the most essential and one of the least appreciated of the professions.

Study almost any phase of modern life, and at the bottom will be found an engineer. When we learn to recognize an engineer, and value his services at their true worth, the world will come more into its proper perspective.

Great trains shuttle back and forth across the continent, thundering their contempt for the roadbed that plays a humble but essential part in transportation. Somewhere a long time back an engineer hacked his way through the brush or tramped over the low prairie, surveying the line. After him came another engineer, blasting and digging and filling until the roadbed was made, and the steel laid. Other engineers were creating the machinery that constructed the motive and the cars, and they were made from steel. Engineers had found the iron ore, engineers had mined it, engineers had turned it into steel with the aid of chemical engineers and electrical engineers and many others.

We say casually that Canada has 10,000,000 available horsepower in hydro-electric energy. How do we know? Engineers of the hydro-electric branch have been ranging the whole Dominion, measuring the flow of rivers, many of them in the almost inaccessible fastnesses of the hinterland. Engineers first surveyed the course of the rivers, and when the time comes when hydro-electric development is possible on any of them engineers will close the sluice, engineers will construct the dams and the power plants and the transmission lines. The development of the hydro-electric power of Manitoba is one of the greatest factors shaping the destiny of this province and its people.

A great bridge costing many millions of dollars is to be erected. Engineering brains must figure the stress and strain on each little strut and girder, even each bolt in the structure. A highway is planned, engineers must figure gradients and drainage and materials and construction. A great building is to be erected, and engineering accuracy is called to turn what foundations are necessary. A city requires water and the engineer

Mountain View No. 4 Instals Officers

The officers of Mountain View Lodge No. 4, were installed Thursday, Jan. 4th, by D.D.G.M. M. E. Malchow, of Sluvis, assisted by P.G.s of Mountain View Lodge and Unity Lodge of Granum. There were twenty brothers from Granum present, and a good turnout of local brothers, making the attendance one of the best.

After the work of the evening was completed, a banquet was served which was excellent in every way. Speeches were given by S. Stewart, P.G., and Bro. Bishop, of Granum, in reply to "The Visitors."

Bro. Lewis and Riley answered to the "Incoming Officers." P.G. Rows of Volcan Lodge, spoke of the pleasure it gave him to visit Mountain View Lodge. P.G. A. Ellis, of Granum thanked the Macleod brothers for their hospitality, and on behalf of Unity No. 23 invited all the brothers of Macleod to visit Granum on Tuesday, January 9th.

D.D.G.M. Malchow gave a very interesting and instructive speech. P.G. R. W. Russell acted as toastmaster.

The new officers installed were as follows: J.P.G., W. O. Hoodless; N.G., H. C. Lewis; V.L., J. R. Riley; R.S., R. W. Russell, P.G.; F.S., R. W. Stewart, P.G.; Treas., W. Shield, P.G.; War., R. Matthey; Com., J. Hartley; H.G., J. B. Gibson; O.G., G. L. Pollard, P.G.; R.S.N.G., W. T. Fleming, P.G.; L.S.N.G., F. Perkins; R.S.V.P., F. Davis; R.S.S., J. W. Bowden; L.S.S., C. Lewis; Chap., W. Whitworth.

CHRIST CHURCH

The annual meeting of the congregation of Christ Church, Macleod, will be held at the Parish Hall on Friday, Jan. 12th, at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served and a short dance will follow. All members and adherents of the congregation are earnestly requested to attend this meeting, if possible.

CURLING NOTES

The last few years, and it is more noticeable this year the Curling Club has not enjoyed the support of the business men of the town, and it is quite a disappointment to the officials of the Club and curlers this season to see so many drop their support. We will take for instance, the town of High River with a population of 1200 is able to gather 30 curlers or 19 rinks, and besides this a lot of the old-time curlers are still giving their support to their club. Here with a larger population the town can only find barely 11 rinks, or 41 curlers, and this poor spirit of co-operation has always been observed, not alone in every line of sport, but in business as well. It reflects everywhere and the sooner we throw away this air of lack of enthusiasm and community spirit the better for the town and the country. There is always a fine spirit of comradeship in curling and were all our business men more anxious to curl, it would be the means of a better feeling of fellowship. Unless the Curling Club receives far better support next year the Club will have to discontinue and we may then be sorry for our non-support.

Well, let's strike a more cheerful vein. Anyway, we are going to have a good bonspiel this year, better than ever, and far more prizes. While it may be a long way off our wholesale friends are already coming along with their donations and we hope our business-men may follow.

We congratulate Joe Marks on trimming O. Stewart. Oville said something about the ice during the game but we might have misunderstood him. Joe's wonderful draw shot on the last end past a regular army of guards was a sight to behold.

Scotty Pringle's rink could not conquer Jack Baird's in their annual game and it seems as if Jack knows Scotty's weak points.

The score in the President vs. Vice-president competition was as follows:

President—	Vice-President—
J. Baird	14 J. Pringle
A. McLeod	3 G. Stewart
Joe Marks	15 O. Stewart
Dr. Kirk	12 R. W. Russell
R. D. McNay	8 M. Stewart
A. McDonald	9 J. Pringle

Unintentionally Scotty Baird's rink was included on the President's side although he is one of the vice-president's of the Club. Possibly out of revenge he ran up such a high score.

The Club hopes next week (weather permitting), to send two rinks to Charleholm to play for the Football Trophy. The train service now is very convenient to visit the Charleholm Club on the evening.

HOCKEY CLUB WILL ORGANIZE FOR SEASON

A meeting for the purpose of re-organizing the Macleod Hockey Club will be held in Geo. H. Scougall's office on Monday evening, Jan. 15th, at 7:30 p.m.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance at this meeting as it is felt that the season should not pass without some hockey, the Macleod Club having hitherto been one of the main stays of the game in the south.

It is stated that the Club is in funds and all that is required is some co-operation and a lot of enthusiasm to ensure some good sport during the latter end of the season.

If the crowd kept on increasing this way, the hall will need enlarging to accommodate everyone. As it is, come early and get a seat.
